

Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Sunday 18 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:

Dull start on Monday, then mainly dry and very warm.

This Evening and Tonight:

Some low cloud across the north and east, a little light rain or drizzle in places.
Elsewhere dry with clear periods and some patchy mist.

Monday:

Low cloud gradually clearing through the morning to leave much of Scotland dry, bright and very warm. Western and Northern Isles cloudy with a little drizzle.

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:

Staying mainly dry and settled, although some overnight low cloud and mist possible. Bright or sunny spells and very warm or hot, isolated showers in south from Wednesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.